DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-15, 17 and 19-23 are pending in this application.

Action Summary

1. The rejection of claims 1-15, 17 and 19-23 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraphs as being indefinite is hereby withdrawn with respect to applicant showing in the specification how to "pre-determine the duration of time".
2. The rejection of claims 1-6, 11-15, 19 and 22 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being unpatentable over Argaud is hereby withdrawn with respect to applicants arguments.
3. The rejection of claim 23 under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) over Argaud is being maintained for the reasons stated in the previous office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-6, 11-15, 17 and 19-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Argaud (US 4,963,360).

See previous office action dated June 30, 2004 for statement of rejection.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed October 4, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants' argue that the prior art of Argaud does not disclose the claimed invention. It is argued that Argaud allows oxygen to enter uncontrolled into the system; an exothermic package separated from the oxygen by only a bag and the package is exposed to oxygen along the entire surface area. It is argued that the present invention claims a titrated exothermic reaction tightly separated from oxygen by air impermeable barriers. It is the position of the examiner that Argaud teaches the claimed invention. Claim 1 is directed towards a controlled delivery device having a temperature modification apparatus capable of controlling and selectively modifying a magnitude and duration of heat and wherein the apparatus heats the skin for a pre-determine temperature range and duration of time. It is the position of the examiner that since the applicants' have not described in detail, in claim 1, what is considered a temperature modification apparatus, then the exothermic layer of the device as described by Argaud can apply. Applicant in claim 2 teaches that the chamber having at least one side that allows air to enter. The invention of the prior art has at least one side that allows air to enter. With respect to duration of heat, it would be controlled by the amount of oxygen reacting with the exothermic layer, which could be determined by one of ordinary skill in that art. With respect to duration of time, it would depend on the amount of time the oxygen is exposed to the exothermic layer.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 7-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The prior art does not teach a transdermal device that comprises a temperature modification apparatus wherein the apparatus is capable of generating heat when supplied with electricity.

Conclusion

7. Claims 1-6, 11-15, 17 and 19-23 are rejected.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
